COMMERCIAL INTELLIGENCE

MONDAY EVENING, OCT. 26.

THE telegrams from home to-day give nothing beyond what we have already reported, and business locally has been devoid of any prominent feature. Both imports and exports are being operated in to a very moderate extent, and unless some exciting influence from outside intervenes, we shall probably have continued quietness until after the Dewali holidays.

The Bank of Bombay return for the week ending on Saturday shows the following changes :—

Public Deposits at H. Office Inc.	Rs.	3,61,569
Other Deposits Branches Dec.	,,	1,05,135
Other Deposits Inc.	,,	9 80,212
Government Securities Dec.	,,	1,982
Loans Dec.	,,	6,57,711
Bills Discounted Inc.	,,	10,83,637
Cash with other Banks Dec.	,,	1,19,501
Cash and Currency Notes Inc.	,,	8,33,679

These movements give no indication of any approaching change in the position of the market ; on the contrary, they rather point to increased ease —if that be possible—before an upward turn sets in.

EXCHANGE.—Although private telegrams from Calcutta are said to quote Bank telegraphic at 1s. 6 3-16d., the market here has evinced no additional firmness, and rates remain unchanged, with, if anything, more disposition to buy than sell. For ready bills we quote :—

Bank Bills on demand ...	1s 6 5-32d.	per rupee.
Do. Telegraphic ...	1s 6¼d.	,,
Do. Three months' sight.	1s. 6 7-32d.	,,
Credits ,, ,, ,,	1s. 6¼d.	,,
Francs ,, ,, ,,	1 9¼d. to ½	,,

GOVERNMENT PAPER is quiet, but steady at Rs. 97 9-16 to ⅝ for Fours, Rs. 99½ for Fours-and-a-half.

SHARES.—For Spinning and Weaving Mills the demand is slack. We quote a decline of Rs. 5 in Alliance, James Greaves, Jevraz Balloo, Khatao Mackanjee, Manockjee Petit, and Great Eastern, Rs. 10 in Oriental, and Rs. 2½ in Dhurrumsey and Mazagon. Other companies are given at previous rates, but the tendency of the market is in favour of buyers. In Press Companies' shares, Mofussils are Rs. 2½, Berars Rs. 5 lower.

COTTON.—A very quiet tone still rules the market, and for export we have not heard of any business. As between dealers, we hear of good Oomra for February-March delivery having changed hands at Rs. 185 per candy ; but this is above what exporters could pay. We quote for New Crop :—

Good Bengals, Dec.	Rs. 158
,, Jan. succeed. last.	156
,, Omras, March	Rs. 185
,, Broach, ,,	Rs. 213 to 214
,, Dholleras, April	Rs. 188

Reports from the districts continue very favourable on the average, and we may look for supplies of both Bengals and Omras in the course of a few days, picking having become general in these districts.

Through Simla we have to-day received the following memorandum on the Cotton Crop of the Bombay Presidency, made up by the Revenue and Agricultural Department of the Government of India, under date of 15th instant :—

"Cotton forecast—Gujarat : Figures for Kathiawar and Baroda not received ; area for Broach, Ahmedabad, Surat, and Kaira 575,000 acres, as compared with average 550,000 acres. Early rains favourable, but long break caused withering and damage from insects, good rain has now fallen, and prospects good. The Deccan : Figures for Khandesh not received, but estimate 650,000 acres, crop below average in quality ; rain late ; Poona, Ahmednagar, Sholapur, and Nasik, area 25,000, acres as against average 125,000 acres, worse even than last year. Satara return not received. Southern Maratha Country : returns not received, season very late, and sowings not complete, late rain promises excellent prospects. Sind : Returns not received. Incompleteness of returns prevents further remarks."

So far as it goes the information is useful enough, but it would have been of much more value had it been published, as it ought to have been, six weeks ago. Even then the report should have been for the whole of India, not for Bombay alone ; and to call it a "forecast" with a return of the acreage, when the crop is already beginning to come in to the up-country markets, is somewhat of an absurdity. In America the Washington Agricultural Bureau is able to give a return of the acreage within a month of sowing being completed, and an estimate of condition for each month by the 10th of the following month. With the machinery at its disposal the Government of India ought to be able to make at least an approach to the same promptitude ; but the practice is to publish voluminous crop reports and returns a month or two after the produce has been marketed in Europe.

WHEAT keeps exceedingly dull, and unless the home markets waken up we may look for a quiet time until after the Dewali. We quote No. 1 Soft White Rs. 3-14, No. 1 Club Delhi Rs. 3-11-3, Soft Red Ahmedabad Rs. 3-13 per cwt., railway terms. For new crop No. 1 Pessy, April-May delivery, we quote Rs. 4 per cwt.

LINSEED is quiet at Rs. 6-13 for this or next month's delivery Rs. 6-4 for new crop March, Rs. 6-1 per cwt. May delivery.

FREIGHTS are not active, nor have rates altered materially. The s.s. Bosphorus is reported fixed for Genoa and Marseilles, December loading, at 31s. 3d. per ton, 2a. exchange. Current rates are as follows :—

MESSRS. LAWRENCE AND MAYO.

GENTLEMEN,

A member of your firm in November, 1880, fitted me with a pair of spectacles which I have used ever since, and I am now anx ous to get another pair exactly like them, as they suit me better than any I was able to get in London, and in fact are the only pair I can wear without discomfort or pain to the eyes.

Yours faithfully,

SIGHT SAVING GLASSES.
MR. FRANK L. McAFEE, Supdt., Irish Presbyterian High School, Ahmedabad, writes :—It is now nearly four months since I received the two pairs of glasses you supplied me with, and I have during this time found them of so much service in enabling me to bear and overcome the strain upon my eyes from work by lamp light, that I feel considerable regret I did not sooner apply to you for help. It is no more than is your due, that I should add that before I applied to you I had already tried two firms of opticians. Their spectacles afforded me a certain amount of ease and comfort ; but in neither case was the benefit I derived from the use of their glasses at all comparable with that which I have already had from using yours.
Pamphlet with instructions how to get properly suited, free on application.

TELEGRAMS.

THE CRISIS IN UPPER BURMAH.

(FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENTS.)

SIMLA, OCT. 26.

The troops forming the expedition are to be despatched to Burmah as soon as they are ready.

Captain Shone goes as field engineer to Burmah with Colonel Sandford.

RANGOON, OCT. 26.

News from Mandalay up to the 20th inst. shows that warlike counsels are uppermost.

M. Haas was received coldly on his return. The Kinwoon says he left surreptitiously during the night, without giving official intimation. His return, whilst removing the insinuations made at the time of his flight, shows that France continues to evince an interest in Upper Burmah which is uncalled for, all French employes having been dismissed, the Burmese Envoy at Paris is being used as a tool by France.

Possibly M. Haas may be able to assist British subjects to remove, and use his influence to stop barbarities by the Burmese. But if they commence all white faces may suffer equally, and he, as the cause of all the troubles, be involved with the others.

Camaratta, the late King's Foreign Minister, who has been unemployed for years, has been recalled.

Theebaw's palace-guard has been largely increased. Ten thousand soldiers have been reported to the King as being ready with loaded guns.

Carpenters are employed in strengthening the palace by erecting stockades, &c. In fact, nothing has been left undone to make the palace defences secure according to Burmese ideas. Fourteen fieldpieces guard the south gate. The Burmese are making warlike preparations with cheerful alacrity, augurring ill for a peaceful solution of the disputes.

The vain-glorious Burmese think their soldiers are invulnerable and that their country is protected by supernatural powers.

The Chief Commissioner, General Buck, and a committee of officers inspected the Flotilla vessels yesterday. Five pontoon barges belonging to the Port Trust have also been taken up by Government for conversion into floating batteries, for which, with slight alterations, they are well fitted.

MADRAS, OCT. 26.

The following troops, in addition to those already named, have been warned for service in Burmah:—The 12th Madras Infantry, from Bangalore; C. Company Madras Sappers, from Secunderabad; B. and H. Companies Sappers, from Bangalore.

Major Fisher, R. A., and Captain Triscott, R. A., will have charge of the Ordnance Field Park.

COLOMBO, OCT. 26.

The native rising in Annam and Tongking is assuming large proportions. The steamer Nowsheba has left Colombo for Bombay with 800 troops intended for Burmah.

A Bombay Marine steamer is coaling in Colombo, bound for Burmah.

MILITARY AND PROTECTIVE RAILWAYS.

(FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.)

SIMLA, OCT. 26.

The Secretary of State has sanctioned the more active prosecution of the Sind-Sagar military railway. It will probably be ready in twelve months.

His lordship has also sanctioned the grant of thirty-five lakhs for protective Madras lines, and the Assam and Behar railways, which were stopped for want of funds in May last.

THE NEW VICEREGAL LODGE.

The new Viceregal Lodge will be begun at once, and finished in April, 1887. A good part of the outlay has already been incurred.

A MADRAS BRIGADIER.

(FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.)

SIMLA, OCT. 26.

Colonel White, formerly Military Secretary, is nominated for the command of a Madras brigade.

THE INDIAN VIGILANCE LEAGUE.

(FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.)

MADRAS, OCT. 26.

Stephen Howard, one of the promoters of the Indian Vigilance League, was to-day sentenced to seven days' rigorous imprisonment and a fine of Rs. 150, in default two months' additional rigorous imprisonment; also as a lawless character and a man of violent temper he was bound over to keep the peace for six months.

THE FARTHER EAST.

(FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.)

COLOMBO, OCT. 26.

The Hongkong Mail of the 13th believes Sir Halliday Macartney, Secretary of the Chinese Embassy in London, will be appointed British Envoy at Pekin.

Sir Robert Hart has been appointed Inspector-General of the Corean Customs, in addition to his imperial appointment with the British. Practically the Chinese and Corean custom services are one.

The Corean capital is shortly to be connected with Europe by telegraph viâ Pekin.

The Chinese Government intend colonizing Manchuria with convicts as a barrier against Russian advances. The convicts will be supplied with tools and seed to establish farms and explore for mineral wealth, protected by the Imperial troops, aided by the Catholic missionaries, who are of great service to the people. There are now in China 31 bishops, 1,220 priests, and 34 colleges, materially aiding the progress of the country.

Mr. Hart has proceeded with the Chinese Frontier Commission, which is entirely composed of civilians. It is thought the Commission should have been military.

Arrangements for representation at the Colonial Exhibition in London are making good progress in Hongkong. There is to be a local exhibition in December.

Serious fears are entertained in Java of a rising on the part of the Mussulman population. Military precautions are being taken. The natives complain they are harassed by taxation imposed by the Dutch.

THE COLOMBO WATER-SUPPLY.

A serious casualty has occurred at Colombo. The reservoir built on Cabook Hill at a cost of £44,000 is leaking throughout the foundations. It is feared it will have to be rebuilt.

SIGNORINA MARCHETTI will give another concert at the Town Hall to-morrow afternoon, assisted by Signor Menesini. The afternoon concerts given by Signorina Marchetti have been greatly appreciated, and it will give the music-loving public of Bombay no little pleasure to learn that the series will be continued during November, at half-past-five each Wednesday afternoon. Signorina Marchetti has been recognised, both in Poona and Bombay, as an artiste of a very high rank, and there should be no doubt as to the success of the enterprise.

THE s. s. Gwalior, with the English mails of the 16th inst., left Suez for Bombay at 9 p.m. on Friday.

THE Basel Mission is extending its sphere of operations in a direction which must be much appreciated by those who have friends whom they wish to remember. Last year the mission published a series of Christmas and New Year cards with Indian subjects, and the success which attended the departure on that occasion has encouraged the superintendent to give wider scope to the enterprise this year by publishing a second series in three designs. The new cards are admirable specimens of artistic printing, and the designs, while being strikingly original, are beautifully chaste. The subjects are characteristically Indian, and the cards will no doubt be fully appreciated at home.

THE Burmese are reported to be making vigorous preparations to repel British invasion, but judging from our experience on former occasions the actual fighting, should Theebaw be sufficiently ill-advised to follow his present evil course, will, comparatively speaking be mere child's play. In the wars of 1824 and 1851 the chief difficulties encountered by the British force arose from climatic influences and the absence of supplies, which the Burmese took every precaution to destroy or remove out of reach. It was only when they had to contend with overwhelming odds that our troops found their work out out for them, as for instance, when a small detachment of 400 Madras Native Infantry was besieged at Pegu by an army of 6,000 men. But at Palamow a British force of less than 2,000 inflicted a crushing defeat on 16,000 to 20,000 Burmese. Now, of course, we act much more freely, with the Irrawaddy for a base; and if General Prendergast is called upon to act, it will very likely be simply a question of marching to reach Mandalay.

THOSE who are in the habit of reading the Madras Mail are familiar with its antagonism to the system of Government from the Hills; but it will be a surprise to many, we imagine, to find it declaring that the work of Government may be as advantageously carried on in the plains on sanitary as well as on pecuniary grounds. Its remarks about the healthfulness of Madras are refreshing. It is one of the many compensations for living in Madras, it declares, that permanent European residents are blessed with equable health. It concedes that this desirable condition is due in some measure to "abstemiousness, good-fellowship, and physical activity of modern life," but avers that it is to the climate as a general rule that must be attributed the fact that Europeans in Madras—and this will be unpleasant reading to the unhappy objects of the comparison—are more robust in appearance than those in Calcutta, Bombay, Ceylon, or China. "The fugitives to the hills cannot therefore," it goes on to say, "swagger with any display of exceptionally good condition; while those who have lived and laughed during the live-long year in the plains, can afford to smile when they hear the returned Capuans dilating rapturously about the glorious climate of sanitaria they have been converted into workshops." This is a delightful picture of the climate of Madras with which the Mail flatters its readers, but what about the reality?

THE Indian Telegraph Department has so many grievances that a Defence Committee has been formed for the purpose of bringing them to the notice of Parliament. The principal grievance is of course slowness of promotion. But there are others, though of a minor character, equally in need of redress. "Go where you will," says an indignant correspondent in the columns of an up-country paper, "and you will hear the same story: difficulties in obtaining leave long over-due; frequent and sudden transfers of officers from one end of India to the other without any apparent cause, which invariably occasion great inconvenience, and frequently involve a much greater expenditure than is covered by the travelling allowance granted by Government; the cuff and offensive tone of correspondence from some officials; the monopolizing of local advantages granted to officers of similar rank in other departments; the practice, which has been steadily increasing, of keeping working parties out in camp throughout the hot weather, in spite of an old standing order to the contrary, on works of no real urgency, such as the opening of an unimportant postal-telegraph office; juniors doing the work of seniors who draw theemolument—for instance, the junior second-grade superintendent holding charge of Bengal, the most important division in India, an appointment which in other services would be held by the senior superintendent of the department; delays in gazetting permanent and temporary promotions." This in truth is a formidable catalogue.

REFERRING to the fact that a Bombay firm is advertising Russian kerosine for sale, the Lahore paper remarks that this is the first time probably, that the produce of the famous wells at Baku has reached India. Last year India imported over 26½ million gallons of kerosine; and nearly all of it came from the United States. Should the Russian oil be able to compete with American kerosine, Russia will rapidly move up in the list of countries trading with India. At present the United States has 3·07 per cent. of the total value of our trade; and Russia only 0·08 per cent. The importation of kerosine oil into India has increased, of late years, enormously. "Kerosine," says Mr. O'Conor in his trade review, "is now used everywhere, in towns at least, for illuminating purposes; and in the littoral provinces and places convenient to railways it has extensively displaced the vegetable oils formerly exclusively used by natives for lights."

THE Madras Government has decided that local and municipal accounts are not in future to be audited by private individuals, and the Accountant-General has suggested the appointment of two auditors for this duty on salaries of Rs. 500 each per mensem.

VACCINATION appears to be making steady progress in Assam, the total number of operations during last year being 103,731, as compared with 88,693 in the previous year. This no doubt was in a great measure due to the increase of local board and municipal vaccinators, and of the work done by them, but the improvement in the extent and efficiency of the inspection. It is a fact worth notice that the number of operations performed by medical officers of tea-gardens shows a considerable decrease, being only 8,449, or 1,887 less than in the previous year. But these figures are not wholly reliable, as the report says that "great difficulties have been experienced in obtaining reports from the garden managers, and the returns are admitted to be imperfect." One of the most satisfactory features is the increase in operations amongst the people of the Khasi, Garo, and Naga Hills, especially the latter, where there were 1,228 operations as compared with 473. The persons vaccinated were chiefly Mikirs, but there were also some Lohta Nagas and Angamis. The increase amongst the people of the Khasi Hills was due to a serious outbreak of small-pox caused by inoculation; for this opened the eyes of the people to the dangers of inoculation, and disposed them to accept the preventive of vaccination.

THE romantic stories which told how Mr. Frank Vizetelly, the Graphic's correspondent in the Soudan, had survived the massacre of General Hicks' army, and become a "medicine-man" of the Mahdi's, turn out, unfortunately, to be without foundation. Like O'Donovan, Cameron, and other warriors of the pen or pencil, Vizetelly seems to have met his death in the dreary Soudan. Some six weeks ago his son asked Lord Salisbury whether any inquiries had been instituted as to the artist's fate, and the Prime Minister did everything in his power to obtain what information was possible. Father Bonomi, who was long a captive at El Obeid, but finally contrived to escape, was the only person to whom appeal in the circumstances was possible, and even his information was second-hand. To his knowledge, the only man in Hicks' army who escaped was a servant of O'Donovan's, and he knew nothing whatever of Vizetelly. Either the artist was not with the army, or he perished with the others. But there seems to be no doubt that he accompanied Hicks.

THE wealthiest maiden lady in the United States is said to be a Miss Catherine Wolfe. She does not centre her young affections in a husband, but she has aspirations all the same. She has determined to discover the site of the Garden of Eden. For this purpose she set apart, about a year ago, the sum of £25,000, and the Rev. William Hayes Ward was commissioned, like another Columbus, to sail on a voyage of discovery. The reverend gentleman has just returned to America after a fruitless sojourn of ten months at the sources of the Tigris and the Euphrates. He reports that he would most likely have been able to "spot" the site of the celebrated Garden but for the hindrances thrown in his way by the "unspeakable Turk." Miss Wolfe intends to fit out another Eden expedition, and it goes without saying that the Rev. Mr. Ward is to revisit the Orient.

The 21st Madras Infantry arrived at Trichinopoly from Mooltan in December, 1880, after having served in the two Afghan campaigns. It is commanded by Colonel F. G. Rideout; the wing commanders are Lieutenant-Colonels Middleton and Watson; and Dr. Lawrenson is in medical charge. It served in the late Afghan wars. STORING KEROSINE-OIL WITHOUT A LICENSE.

MESSRS. BENN, ASHLEY, AND CO. were summoned to appear before Mr. Cooper on Saturday to answer a complaint of storing five thousand cases of kerosine-oil in a godown in Clive-road without a license from the Municipality and contrary to section 225, Bombay Act 3 of 1872, and sections 8 and 9 of the Petroleum Act 8 of 1881. Mr. Buckland, of the firm of Crawford and Buckland, appeared for the Municipality; and Mr. Craigie, of the firm of Craigie, Lynch, and Owen, appeared for the defence.

Mr. Craigie, before admitting or denying the charge, reminded the court that in a case in which he appeared the other day there was an error in the procedure adopted by the Municipality. He presumed that proceedings in this case would be regulated by the Presidency Magistrates Act. If he was wrong in that supposition, his worship would correct him. The summonses were taken out under sections 8 and 9.

His worship said the complaint came under section 225.

Mr. Craigie said section 225 merely directed what the penalty was to be, but did not say anything as to the process by which it was to be enforced. Section 299 provided this.

His worship remarked that all that was necessary under that section was to serve the accused with a summons, and to prove that he had no license, and that the place was used for a purpose calculated to be dangerous to property.

Mr. Craigie presumed that was under section 290 of the Municipal Act. The mode of procedure before the Presidency Magistrates must be regulated by the Presidency Magistrates Act. If that was the case, then—

Mr. Cooper, interrupting.—Perhaps I am doing what I have no right to do, but I think I can put the case out of Mr. Buckland's hands. No doubt he has considered the matter, and will place the case before us.

Mr. Buckland said the offence, under section 225 of the Municipal Act, was storing five thousand cases of kerosine-oil in Clive-road on the 20th of this month. It appeared that Messrs. Benn, Ashley, and Co. wrote to the Municipal Commissioner on the 30th inst. asking those gentlemen to grant, on the usual fee, Rs. 15, for the storage of kerosine-oil. In reply to that the Municipal Commissioner returned the fee, requesting information as to the amount of oil possessed by the applicants. The defendants furnished the information, but the Municipal Commissioner refused the license, as certain rules of the Petroleum Act were not complied with; and instituted these proceedings. The Municipal Commissioner, Mr. Buckland added, did not wish to press for a heavy penalty. There were three cases of breach of the Petroleum Act now pending before Mr. Desabhoy Framjee in the Girgaum Court. The defendants in those cases were three of the largest native merchants in Bombay. The Commissioner had no option in the matter. The kerosine-oil trade of Bombay had so enormously increased that it was absolutely necessary to carefully regulate Mr. Buckland read certain sections from the Petroleum Act. The Commissioner, he said, was willing to allow merchants to store their oil, in accordance with the rules of the Act, in such premises as were used for the storage of oil outside Bombay. The rules had been submitted to the Chamber of Commerce, and had been approved by that body. There was therefore no reason for the merchants to complain of any hardships.

Mr. Cooper.—You are willing to come to any reasonable understanding with the defendants, Mr. Buckland?

Mr. Buckland replied that his instructions were to press for a small penalty, in order to publish the fact that the Commissioner would enforce these rules.

His worship remarked that if that were so Mr. Craigie would want Mr. Buckland to lead evidence. But his worship would be unable to take up the case.

Mr. Craigie asked if his worship would go into the point he had raised. If he were allowed to explain what the point was, his worship might think it worth while to go into it, and stop further proceedings. His worship would understand that he was instructed to appear by Mr. Malabar, the constituted attorney of Messrs. Benn, Ashley, and Co. Mr. Craigie did not appear as representing the firm.

Mr. Cooper.—The question then arises, Mr. Craigie, whether you have any locus standi to address me in this case. (Laughter.)

Mr. Craigie.—If your worship holds that Messrs. Benn, Ashley, and Co. have been served with this summons, then I shall appear on behalf of Benn, Ashley, and Co. But in a matter of this kind I cannot understand how a summons can be issued against a firm. It must be issued against some person.

Mr. Cooper.—If you raise any objection on this point I shall refer you to the calendar, and have the summons amended and served on you at once.

Mr. Craigie.—If your worship directs that the summons must be served on Mr. Macdonald, then Municipality will find that they cannot succeed in the case. Your worship sees that the owner or occupier of the godown is liable to a penalty. Well, the owner of this godown is a native, and the occupier is the partner or partners of the firm of Benn, Ashley, and Co. Macdonald is not a partner, but the constituted attorney of the firm; and you cannot prosecute the constituted attorney of a firm for the acts of the firm. Now, perhaps, your worship will see the bearing of my preliminary observations which directed your attention to section 299, and also why these proceedings are not conducted under the Presidency Magistrates Act. This is a summary procedure, and the summons must be served as directed by that Act. If it is served in that way it will have to be served on the partners or one of them, and for that purpose will have to be sent to England. I do not know whether the representatives of the Municipality will undertake to do that. (Laughter.) This observation excites merriment on the part of the representatives of the Municipality, but when extensive power of this kind, and powers which may result in persons being committed to prison, are vested in them, it is exceedingly desirous that these powers should be exercised in a legitimate manner. Your worship has heard what the Municipality have stated. If they are prepared to come to a reasonable arrangement there is no doubt in the world an arrangement will be come to; but if they press for a penalty I shall insist on their proceeding in the proper way. If the object of the Municipal Commissioner is to prevent this kind of thing occurring again, and to put the public know that these rules will be enforced, I say that that object will be attained by summoning Messrs. Benn, Ashley, and Co. to the Police Court, and then according to a reasonable arrangement. But if on the other hand they press for a penalty, then I shall resist their procedure.

Mr. Cooper said if Mr. Buckland thought he was acting rightly he should proceed.

Mr. Craigie directed his worship's attention to section 13 of the Petroleum Act. His worship would observe that the summons was issued under the Municipal and Petroleum Acts. Any person who contravened the rules under the latter Act was liable to a month's imprisonment or a fine of Rs. 50, or to both. He asked if his worship proposed to sentence the firm of Benn, Ashley, and Co. to one month's imprisonment. (Laughter.)

Mr. Cooper.—I think you take an unfair advantage of the magistrate. Mr. Craigie. I cannot sentence any one till I hear the case. The question is, Mr. Buckland, whether you can prove your case. In the first instance, the summons is a good one as drawn in its present form; I shall allow you to amend it in any way you please. In a criminal matter of course everything must be done according to law.

After conversing with Mr. Craigie for a short while, Mr. Buckland asked his worship to grant a week's adjournment in the case, as he thought they would be able to come to some arrangement. The case accordingly stands over to Saturday, the 31st.

MEETINGS OF PUBLIC COMPANIES.

THE ALBERT PRESS COMPANY.

THE annual meeting of the shareholders of this company was held yesterday afternoon, Dr. Ardesheer Jamshedjee Bhajivala presiding. The directors submitted the report for the year ending 30th June last, from which we give the following extracts:—

"During the period under review, the directors are glad to say there was a better pressing, both in cotton and wool, than the last year, the total number of bales being 56,196, which were 20,069 bales more than in last year. They had also pressed 29,913 bales of hay on account of Government for the Afghan war. Notwithstanding that there are now more presses in Kurrachee than the business requires, yet a prospectus of another new company was issued. We are informed the capital of this company was not subscribed. Had the company been formed, the result would have been disastrous to all concerned. The pressing rates, which were Rs. 4 and Rs. 4-4, have now been reduced to Rs. 2-12, which include the cost of gunnies, lashing, and hoops. The directors apprehend there hardly remains any margin, as even out of Rs. 2-12 royalties have to be paid to other companies. From the above remarks, you will observe that a sum of Rs. 31,193-5-9 is at the profit and loss account, out of which your directors recommend to divide Rs. 26,500, being at the rate of Rs. 175 per share, and the balance of Rs. 12,693-5-9 they propose to divide as under:—Rs. 1,500 to the depreciation fund account; Rs. 1,000 to reserve fund account; and Rs. 10,193-5-9 to be carried forward to next year's account."

Resolutions were then passed adopting the report and accounts, and declaring a dividend at the rate of Rs. 175 per share. Messrs. Ardesheer J. Bhajivala and Damoderdass Tapidass were elected directors for the ensuing year, and Messrs. Pallonjee Framjee Mehta and Merwanjee Framjee were appointed auditors at a remuneration of Rs. 125 each. The shareholders were generally satisfied with the management, and voted thanks to the chairman, the directors, and the secretaries and treasurers for the very efficient manner in which they had conducted the company's affairs.

The customary vote of thanks to the chairman concluded the proceedings.

THE BHOWNUGGUR COTTON MANUFACTURING COMPANY.

AN extraordinary general meeting of shareholders of the company was held yesterday at the registered office, Hammam-street, to consider a report submitted by the directors on the present state of the company, and to pass special resolutions, if necessary. Mr. C. H. B. Forbes presided. The following report of the directors was taken as read:—

"In accordance with the resolution passed at the last general meeting we have taken steps to obtain tenders for the company's properties at Bhownuggur and Moorgi. We regret to report that none have been forthcoming, owing we believe to the general idea that the properties would have to be put up to public auction. As the mortgagees are further pressing for their advances to the company the mill was in consequence stopped working on the 18th ultimo, and is now at a standstill. Under the circumstances there are now two courses that suggest themselves to us, viz.:—1st.—Realization of the company's affairs. Last year he was in favour of the company being wound up; and he had from the first opposed the company passing into the hands of the present secretaries, but from any reference, last year, it would be believed it would have been best to wind up then.

The chairman said he also was in favour of the company being wound up last year, but a majority of the shareholders were then opposed to such a course.

Mr. Read said the mischief had already been done, and there was no alternative but to go into liquidation.

The chairman's proposition to wind up, seconded by Mr. Read, was then unanimously agreed to.

It was then proposed that the directors be appointed liquidators at a nominal remuneration of Rs. 5 each. An amendment was proposed to the effect that Mr. G. W. Read and Mr. Lukhmidas Khimjee be appointed liquidators at a remuneration of two per cent. on the assets realised. Another amendment was proposed to the effect that Mr. C. H. B. Forbes and Mr. Lukhmidas Khimjee be appointed liquidators at a remuneration of five per cent. on the amount distributed among the shareholders.

The chairman said he wanted no remuneration, but if the shareholders wished, he and the other directors were willing to act as liquidators.

The second amendment, on being put to the vote, was lost.

A poll was demanded, and the chairman appointed Saturday next for taking it by open voting.

THE TANSA WATER-WORKS SCHEME.

THE Municipal Commissioner has prepared a report on Mr. Clerke's revision of Major Tulloch's Tansa Project, together with Mr. Forde's remarks thereon. Mr. Ollivant says that the three important particular in which a modification is proposed in Major Tulloch's original project are:—(a) The alteration necessary for commanding the present reservoirs, which did not exist and were not contemplated when Major Tulloch prepared his report. (b) The plan of crossing the Basein Creek by means of a bridge instead of a tunnel. (c) The substitution, as far as possible, of conduits for tunels.

The area of the proposed lake, with the dam raised to the highest level ultimately contemplated —and this is the area which it is now proposed to acquire—is 8 square miles; the area from which the rainfall is to be collected is over 53 square miles; the available supply is, after making deductions for evaporation, &c., equal to 68 million gallons per diem for 365 days, and is practically equal to 100 million gallons per diem, because, notwithstanding the draw off during the rains, the rainfall is sufficiently abundant to ensure the lake being full at the end of the rainy season, and thus the supply stored is only required, until replenished by another rainfall, to meet the demand of 240 days in the year. This it may be taken as certain is all that the capacity of the lake is amply abundant for all future requirements.

From the site of the dam to the boundary of the Island of Bombay the distance is four miles. The means proposed for conducting the water from one point to the other are tunnels for 2½ miles, conduits for 2⅜ miles, and iron pipes for the remaining 2½ miles. The water will be led on Bombay as far as Vehar Lake, and with the existing reservoirs at Malabar and Bhandarwala Hills, and the estimate provide for subsidiary pipes being laid of adequate capacity for this purpose. The capacity of the tunnel as designed is sufficient to deliver 33 million gallons daily, or about 45 gallons per head (in addition to all present sources of supply) according to the population returned in the last census.

The capacity of the conduit as designed is sufficient to deliver 36 million gallons daily, or about 34 gallons per head (in addition to all present sources of supply) according to the population of the last census. This, no doubt, will prove amply sufficient for many years to come, but as the difference in the cost of constructing the conduit in the first instance to the same capacity as the tunnel would only be two lakhs, whereas it would be far more expensive of make the alteration afterwards, and because "it would not be an easy matter to do it afterwards without interfering with the water-supply of the city," I entirely agree with Mr. Forde that the extra height should be provided in the first instance.

We thus have a lake area capable of giving 100 million gallons daily; and 28½ miles of tunnel and conduit capable of giving 33 million gallons daily; and the cost so far (i.e., of acquiring the lake area and of constructing the tunnels and conduits) inclusive of contingencies, will, according to Mr. Clerke's estimate, be Rs. 34,38,000.

Experience of the inadequacy of the present supply, even with recent improvements, to meet increased local requirements, and a study of similar experiences in other cities, has convinced me for some time that the needs of the city demand a supply not far, if at all, short of 30 gallons per head, and therefore I have from the first urged that no new scheme should be considered which did not ensure a minimum delivery of 10 gallons per head, in addition to our present supply. A supply of 8 million gallons daily would yield, according to the population by the last census, 10·34 gallons per head, which, according to the present consumption, our present supply per head of the same population is 18·43 gallons. The total available quantity would thus be 28·77 gallons per head daily. The height of the dam recommended by Mr. Clerke, in addition so calculated must as already stated, be 401 T. H. D., or 109 feet above the river bed, and the cost of this dam as estimated will be, inclusive of the necessary bridges, approaches, and filter beds, Rs. 29,00,000. The cost—similarly calculated—of iron pipes (a 36" main will be required to bring this minimum quantity to Bombay) will be Rs. 35,33,000, and the cost, also inclusive of contingencies, of crossing the Basein Creek by a bridge, Rs. 4,6,000. Thus the entire cost of the work to meet the lowest possible estimate of present requirements will be Rs. 1,02,10,000.

The shortest possible time which may be expected to elapse between the commencement and the completion of the work is, I think, six years. By the end of that period the population, at the rate of increment observable between the last and the preceding census (and appearance do not justify the assumption of any lower rate of increment), will be 950,000. To this population the existing sources of supply will yield only 15 gallons per head, and the addition of 8 million gallons from Tansa will yield 8·42 gallons per head. The total supply per head upon the completion of the work would thus be 23·42 gallons per head. Though I would most strongly advocate that a scheme, capable such as this is of almost illimitable expansion hereafter, should be immediately undertaken to give even this addition to our supply, an addition the necessity of which will be felt increasingly year by year I must avow, after mature consideration, that I do not think this addition will suffice for our wants; and to avoid disappointment, delay, and greater expenditure hereafter, I venture to urge upon the Corporation the wisdom, if financial difficulties can be overcome, as I hope they may be, of proceeding with the larger scheme explained by Mr. Clerke in his report, and recommended by Mr. Forde—that by which 17 million gallons of water may be brought in from Tansa in the first instance. This would involve the construction of the dam to a height of 408 T.H.D., or 116 feet above the river bed, and the substitution of 48" for 36" iron pipe. The additional cost on account of the former item would be Rs. 3,40,000 and of the latter Rs. 17,50,000, and the total cost of the project as thus extended would be Rs. 1,53,00,000. I must not omit to give a consideration, which the Corporation will concur with me in thinking one of very great importance, namely, that although the 17 million gallons scheme would cost only Rs. 20,00,000 more than the 8 million gallons scheme if adopted from the commencement, the cost of subsequently converting the smaller into the greater would be, if the price of iron remains as at present, Rs. 38,50,000. This difference is attributable to the fact that the aggregate cost of two mains is far greater than the cost of one main of equal carrying capacity. No sound reason for the 8 million gallons scheme is completed than the Corporation would find themselves face to face with the necessity of extending it at an expenditure of 17½ lakhs more than the larger project would have cost if undertaken in the first instance.

It has been shown that, on the lines proposed, an 8 million gallons scheme is estimated to cost Rs. 1,02,10,000, and that a 17 million gallons scheme is estimated to cost Rs. 1,53,00,000, and I have shown that the estimates are in both cases based on rates amply sufficient to leave a safe margin. The capital would be required in instalments, the probable amount of which is shown below, spread over seven years. Considering the nature and magnitude of the proposed work, I think that sixty years, commencing from the end of that period, will not be regarded as an unduly long term for the repayment of the loan required for capital and interest. I assume, however, that the interest due on each instalment, as it is taken up, will be met out of the Municipal Fund, and therefore no addition need be made to capital on account of interest during the period of construction, as might be inferred from the 20th paragraph of Mr. Forde's report.

It is questionable whether the Municipality would be able to obtain on terms at all suited to their means the large sum required for the Tansa project except with the assistance of Government. I have made a representation to H. E. the Governor in Council on the subject, but I am not yet in a position to say what measure or manner of assistance the Government of Bombay or the Government of India would be willing or able to render. I venture to think that the Municipality have grounds for now asking for assistance, both in consideration of the restrictions at present imposed upon them in respect to borrowing, investment, and repayment, and still more in consideration of the circumstances under which the need arises for the present scheme being contemplated. If Government would agree themselves to advance the necessary funds at the rate of 4½ per cent., this is the form of assistance which would be most helpful to the future finances of the Municipality. The annual sum then payable from the completion of the work to extinguish the debt, supposing the 17 million gallons scheme to be adopted would be, according to the foregoing table, Rs. 5,95,988. But it is also a matter for consideration whether Government should not be asked and might not be induced to allow the remainder of the present Vehar debt to be extended over the same period as the new Tansa debt. As Corporation grounds for well aware, the present annual payment on account of the Vehar debt is Rs. 1,75,000, and, according to the Government decision with respect to the recent controversy on the subject, the annual instalments remain to be paid before that debt will be extinguished. So at the end of the seven years above mentioned (see table) the Corporation would be paying its annual sum to the extent of three years' addition to the Tansa annual instalments, whilst for the remaining thirty-seven years of the Tansa debt they would be paying the latter instalments only. It seems to me fairer that the burden should be equalized over the whole period of the debt, and this might be done by extending the term for the repayment of the balance of the Vehar debt, at the same rate of interest as at present cases between 4 P.M. and 5.30 P.M. The greatest number of tornadoes occurred in February, and the most destructive storm occurred in Minnesota, September 9, which caused losses to the estimated sum of 4,000,000 dols. These wind storms were the most prevalent in the Southern States of Georgia and South Carolina. In the Western States there are probably many storms which have escaped any record on account of the sparse settlement of the country, and in some districts there are many partially covered pits near houses called "cyclone pits," which serve as a refuge in times of severe storms which threaten destruction to the dwelling-house. The American papers record how the construction of such cyclone pits saved a certain church, and divide it into two opposing bodies, as a certain portion strangely maintained that the construction of such cyclone pits was in antagonism to the just decrees of divine Providence. Unfortunately there is no information given as to the dividing line, which would warrant the faithful in building a house whose roof serves as a protection against the ordinary severity of the elements, and not permit them to build any structure like an Alpine cottage with a stone-laden roof to withstand an unusual storm which might destroy an ordinary dwelling. It is evidently an unusual treatment of the theme of the divinity of architecture little dreamed of by John Ruskin.—Engineering.
